

Social and Personal.

Miss Mollie Elliott Seawell's sparkling little book, "The Fortunes of Fifi," one of the brightest, gayest compositions of the year 1903, has been dramatized, and is to be presented immediately in a leading New York theatre.

Major Eugene Baylor, of Virginia, has composed "The Fortunes of Fifi" gavotte, which will be danced by Fifi, the leading character of the play. The gavotte will be one of the new compositions that will be played by Sousa's band at the St. Louis Exposition.

Miss Seawell, who is from Gloucester county, frequently visits in Richmond, and is a great social favorite here. She is a delightful writer, and "The Fortunes of Fifi" in especial has caught the fancy of the American public.

Kilby-Halsey.

Cards have been received in Richmond from Mr. and Mrs. Robert Oden Halsey for the marriage of their daughter, Miss Elsie Blackwell Halsey, to Mr. Richardson Kilby, of Suffolk. The ceremony will be performed at the home of the bride's parents, "Eastern," in Orange county, Wednesday, April 27th.

Van Dyke League.

A woman's organization, called the Van Dyke League, has recently been chartered at the city of Lynchburg, in which all Virginia women are more or less interested.

The league is to have nine directors, those for the first year being: Miss Mary Brown, Miss Annie L. Jones, Miss Josephine Dudley, Miss Mattie Carruthers, Miss L. D. Apperson, Miss Susan E. Carroll, Miss Aurelia R. Davis, Miss Ora Mason and Miss Florence H. Horsley.

The objects of the organization, as set forth by the Lynchburg News, are:

The establishment and maintenance of a home or homes, affording good board and lodging and pleasant and protective surroundings for women and girls without home ties, at the minimum cost to them; the establishment and maintenance of assembly rooms, coffee rooms, parlors and reading rooms, and rooms for rest and recreation, for use of all members of the federation; the investigation and improvement of civic, industrial and social conditions affecting women; the institution and maintenance of educational and philanthropic enterprises, and the promotion of good feeling and a spirit of broad charity and mutual helpfulness among all women.

Compliment to Dr. McGuire.

The Winchester News of April 15th pays the following well deserved compliment to Dr. Stuart McGuire, of Richmond, a celebrated young surgeon, is at Winchester Memorial Hospital. Dr. McGuire is a nephew of Dr. William P. McGuire, of this city, and a son of the late Dr. Hunter H. McGuire, of Richmond, whose heroic services in the Confederate army and brilliant work after the war made him one of the greatest surgeons of the country. Dr. Stuart McGuire will perform a number of delicate surgical operations at the hospital.

Commonwealth Chapter.

The Commonwealth Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, met yesterday at noon in No. 214 West Main Street.

Mrs. Marie Louise Harrison and Mrs. Allen M. Chambers were appointed delegates to the Thirtieth Continental Congress of Daughters, convening in Chase's Theatre, Washington, D. C., next week.

The congress will be presided over by Mrs. Charles F. Fairbanks, president general. Hon. John Goode, of Virginia, will address the congress next Wednesday on the "Preservation of Historic Jamestown."

The cornerstone of Memorial Continental Hall, to the erection of which the Daughters at large will contribute, will be laid in Washington at 2:30 P. M. next Monday, and the official reception will be held in the Congress Art Gallery from 3 to 5 P. M. the same day.

Personal Mention.

Letters have been received from Mr. and Mrs. C. Lee Morrison, written at the "Shoreham," Washington, D. C., where they stopped for a few days on their way to Waterbury, New Jersey.

Mr. Charles H. Hunkamp, of "Boswell," near Fredericksburg, Va., has been invited by the Long Branch Horse Show Association to act as a judge of saddle horses at the annual Long Branch Horse Show, to be held next July.

Miss Belle Baylor is visiting her uncle, Mr. W. H. Harkness, at No. 115 Thirtieth Street, Newport-News.

Mrs. T. M. Jones, of Bonaville, accompanied by her daughter, Mrs. Glenn Smith, is at St. Luke's Hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Horace Lacy Smith, before leaving Virginia for Atlanta, visited Mrs. Smith's grandparents, Major and Mrs. Horace Lacy, at Fredericksburg, Va.

Miss Zaida English is the guest of Miss Nannie Carrington Reynolds, in Newport News, Va.

Mrs. John L. Eubank and Mrs. E. T. Gloriot have left the city of Virginia for Warm Springs, where they are making preparations for the spring and summer season.

The ladies of Whittie Memorial Circle, King's Daughters, Mrs. John B. Lightfoot leader, will be holding next Wednesday, April 21st, a rummage sale at No. 191 East Main. If those who wish to contribute will notify Mrs. Lightfoot, No. 666 North Tenth Street, packages will be called for.

The mid-season recital of Miss Zelle Minor's music class will be held at the music rooms of Ferguson Brothers, No. 11 West Broad Street, this evening at 8:30 o'clock. An attractive programme will be presented.

Mrs. G. G. Goodrich, of Staunton, Va., will be a delegate from the Beverly Manor Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution to the National Congress, convening in Washington, D. C., next week.

Mrs. Thomas Elcock, of Philadelphia, formerly Miss Virginia McLeod, of this city, will visit friends here in May.

Mr. and Mrs. Granville Valentine have gone to California for their wedding trip. Miss Grace Hughes, of South Pine

POEMS YOU OUGHT TO KNOW

Whatever your occupation may be, and however crowded your hours with affairs, do not fail to secure at least a few minutes every day for refreshment of your inner life with a bit of poetry.—Prof. Charles Eliot Norton.

"EVEN THIS SHALL PASS AWAY."

By THEODORE TILTON.

This poem goes the rounds about once in three years. It is on its tour again, this time credited by the Albany Journal to "the Brandon Banner." Such is fame. It is by Theodore Tilton, imitated from an eastern poem. It is always popular because it is a sermon in itself.

ONCE in Persia reigned a king

Who upon his signet ring
Graved a maxim true and wise,
Which, if held before his eyes,
Gave him counsel at a glance
Fit for every change and chance;
Solemn words, and those are they:
"Even this shall pass away."

Trains of Camels through the sand
Brought him gems from Samarcand;
Fleets of galleys through the seas
Brought him pearls to match with these;
But he counted not his gain
Treasures of the mine or main;
"What is wealth?" the king would say.
"Even this shall pass away."

In the revels of his court,
At the zenith of the sport,
When the palms of all his guests
Burned with clapping at his jests,
He, amid his fags and wine,
Cried, "O, loving friends of mine!
Pleasures come, but none to stay;
Even this shall pass away."

Fighting on a furious field,
Once a javelin pierced his shield,
Soldiers, with a loud lament,
Bore him, bleeding, to his tent,
Groaning from his tortured side,
"Pain is hard to bear," he cried;
"But with patience, day by day,
Even this shall pass away."

Towering in the public square,
Twenty cubits in the air,
Rose his statue carved in stone,
Then the king, disguised, unknown,
Stood before his sculptured name,
Musing meekly, "What is fame?
Fame is but a slow decay—
Even this shall pass away."

Struck with palsy, sore and old,
Waiting at the gates of gold,
Said he with his dying breath,
"Life is done, but what is death?"
Then, in answer to the king,
Fell a sunbeam on his ring,
Showing by a heavenly ray,
"Even this shall pass away."

DAILY FASHION HINTS.

LADIES' CIRCULAR ONE-PIECE DRESSING SACK.

No. 6132.—Fashion's vagaries and the ups and downs of its fancy are marked in dressing sacks as in the frocks themselves. There is always a close following of the season's modes, and in the circular dressing sack or negligee shown here, with body and sleeves made in one, surely the acme of perfection has been reached in the long shoulder line.

Every woman needs a few simple little room suits to slip on at odd moments, and yet for just this purpose it does not always seem wise to make a large expenditure. Many of the models are so elaborate that unless one can cover up the foundation with trimming the effect is lost. Not so with this one, for while it may be elaborated with ruffles of lace around the neck, front, sleeves, and even the lower edge, it is just as pretty as can be if made as illustrated—with only a finishing band. This is wash material of contrasting color.

This model is one which the average woman likes to experiment upon in the selection of colors and trimmings. Knowing full well that it is capable of several variations, any one of which will be pretty and effective. The pattern is one piece, having a seam down the back. This seam, together with a very short one under the arm, which may be sewn or tied with ribbon, connects a most unique little garment and at a cost of two yards of material. The style is suitable for flannelette, cashmere, pongee or the light weight woolsens or wash materials.

Sizes—Small, medium and large.

On receipt of 10 cents, this pattern will be sent to any address. All orders must be directed to THE LITTLE FOLKS PATTERN CO., No. 75 Fifth Avenue, New York. When ordering, please do not fail to mention number.

TYPICAL FRIDAY DOCKET.

Justice John Deplores the State of Crime—Police Court.

A Friday docket! Habitués of the Police Court know what that means. A few drunks, some crap-shooters, a scrap or two and that's about all. "Thursday night always was a bad day for business," remarked Justice John. The bunch of crap-shooters, fifteen in number, captured in Seventeenth Street by Officers Bryant, Green and Bill Bradley, were charged $250 each.

John St. John, George Ellinger and Bob Lawrence were given twelve months security each for getting drunk for the seventh time this year. Among his nephews and nieces are Dr. Robert F. Williams, Mr. W. C. Lefebvre, Mr. John W. Harrison, and Mrs. J. B. Daniel, of Richmond; Mr. Carter Harrison, of Powhatan county, Va.; Mr. Edward Harrison, of Cumberland county, Va.; and Mrs. McLauren, of California.

In 1862 Bishop Williams accompanied the Perry expedition to Japan. In 1868 he was consecrated missionary bishop of China and Japan, but resigned in 1870, since which time he has resided in Kyoto, Japan. Having become afflicted with throat trouble, his physician ordered him home. Bishop Williams translated the entire Prayer Book and nearly one-half of the Bible into Japanese, and created, unaided by outside assistance, a church in Japan.

MONEY FOR JAMESTOWN

Action of Committee Does Not Mean That Appropriation

Will Not be Made.

CONSIDER IT NEXT SESSION

Prospects of Securing the Money Even Brighter—Notes and Gossip Concerning Virginians.

(From Our Regular Correspondent.)

WASHINGTON, D. C., April 15.—The decision of the Committee on Industrial Arts and Expositions not to report the Jamestown Exposition bill at this session was reached after conference with representatives of the Exposition Company, and it was the unanimous opinion of the committee and the officials of the company that it was the part of wisdom to allow the bill to go over to the next session.

"This action does not mean that the exposition project has received a blow at the hands of the committee. On the other hand, it was clearly developed that the committee is heartily in favor of the proper commemoration of the settlement of Jamestown, but it was requested that the bill, if introduced now, could have little or no chance of passage. The Republican leaders of the House have decided that Congress shall adjourn at the earliest possible date, and the Republican members of the committee did not care to embarrass themselves by undertaking to force the bill through and encounter the opposition of their party leaders.

PROSPECTS ARE BRIGHT.

"I do not think the prospects of securing an appropriation have ever been brighter," said Hon. John Temple Graves, of Georgia, who has been at work for the bill, in season and out of season, for months. "There can be no reasonable doubt that Congress will make a suitable appropriation to the exposition at the next session, and that it will make it early in the session, as I understand it to be the intention of the friends of the project to have the bill introduced as soon as the next session convenes."

Representative Maynard agreed with Mr. Graves that the chances of securing an appropriation next session were excellent, and the representatives of the Exposition Company take a similar view. The committee reached its decision at a session this morning, at which Mr. Maynard, Senator Daniel and several of the exposition people were present.

BARCROFT "EXPIRIT BARBER."

Representative Lamb had a caller yesterday in the person of William Barcroft, colored, of Richmond, who described himself as "expert barber." Barcroft came to see Captain Lamb about a bill which the Captain introduced, providing for the removal of Barcroft's political disabilities. It seems that the darkey was a soldier in the Union army, and got into a fight on one occasion, which caused him to receive punishment which took away his right of suffrage. When he got here to-day he learned that the bill had already been reported from the Military Committee, and will come up for passage in due course.

"That darkey is going to vote the Republican ticket," if he is enfranchised," said a friend of Captain Lamb.

NOTES AND GOSSIP.

Mrs. Thomas S. Martin left on the Norfolk boat last night for Smithfield, accompanied by her two little children. Mrs. Martin will remain at Smithfield with her mother and father, Colonel and Mrs. Fenton Day, until the end of the session of Congress, when she will go to Scotland, their home, near Scottsville.

Hon. Joseph T. Lawless, of Norfolk, formerly Secretary of the Commonwealth, and his daughter, little Miss Kitty, were in the city yesterday. Mr. Lawless came to attend exercises connected with the presentation of a check for fifty thousand dollars to the Catholic University of America by the Knights of Columbus, for the purpose of establishing a chair of secular history in the University. He and his daughter returned home last night.

The House has passed the bill providing for the appointment of a deputy collector of customs at Manteo, in the district of Albemarle, North Carolina. The bill fixes the salary of the official at $800 a year.

The House has also passed a bill, introduced by Representative Gaines, providing for a term of the United States Court at Lewisburg, Greenbrier county, W. Va.

A bill giving a term of the United States Court at Big Stone Gap has also passed the House.

Mrs. Claude A. Swanson has been ill with tonsillitis, but she is almost entirely recovered.

BISHOP WILLIAMS IS COMING HERE

Went to Japan in 1862 With the Perry Expedition—Native of Richmond.

The Rt. Rev. Channing Moore Williams, D. D., who has been spending the late winter months in Los Angeles, Cal., expects to visit his relatives in Richmond in May.

Bishop Moore was born in Richmond, where he has many relatives and warm friends, who will gladly welcome him when he arrives. His brothers were the Rev. William C. Williams, Robert F. Williams and John G. Williams, all of whom are now dead. Mrs. H. B. Lefebvre, of this city, is his sister. Among his nephews and nieces are Dr. Robert F. Williams, Mr. W. C. Lefebvre, Mr. John W. Harrison, and Mrs. J. B. Daniel, of Richmond; Mr. Carter Harrison, of Powhatan county, Va.; Mr. Edward Harrison, of Cumberland county, Va.; and Mrs. McLauren, of California.

BRAVERY OF FORMER RICHMOND MAN

Mr. Powell Saves the Life of a Lad Who Fell in a New York Dock.

Mr. W. P. Powell, the youngest son of the late John W. Powell, of this city, performed an act of bravery in New York last Sunday quite worthy of mention.

Mr. Powell was walking with his little boy of five on a crowded dock. Among the crowd he noticed a little boy of about eight years dangerously near the edge of the dock. He admonished the child, but was gayly answered by the little fellow that he was a "life-saver" himself and in no danger. Mr. Powell turned and walked away, but had gone but a short distance when a yell from the crowd announced that the child had fallen from the dock.

Mr. Powell walked back, and seeing that no one was inclined to go to the rescue of the child, now struggling in the water, he took off his coat and hat, and, handing them and his little son to some one near by, plunged into the water himself, and, after quite a struggle, rescued the boy.

Mr. Powell has been for several years employed as a book-keeper in one of Acker, Merritt and Bond's large grocery stores, near the city hall.

New York. His brave act will not surprise his many Richmond friends.
